

Video title:

Bursary student, Jane

Transcript:

On the Academy, although you've got to attend classes, you're given the option of doing your own project. So, I teamed up with six other students and we created a website that teaches mathematics for cryptography. We weren't given any help, it was totally down to the six of us pulling at our knowledge and our experience, and then we got to present that to the rest of the CyberFirst community at the end.